Dedication

A century ago, when a group of pioneers founded Champaign County, they picked a land where they thought their children would find a pleasant place for their homes. They had many difficulties to overcome before they could live peacefully, but they did win out.

Today, the people of the County have new difficulties to face, and yet they are meeting them just as their forefathers did before them.

To the pioneers of yesterday, to the pioneers of today, and to the pioneers of tomorrow, we dedicate this 1933 Maroon.

PREFACE

To honor the one hundredth anniversary of the founding of Champaign County, the 1933 MAROON staff chose a pioneer subject for its theme.

In selecting this theme, the members of the editorial, business, and art staffs have endeavored to give a pictorial history of the events that have happened during the school year.

FRANCES RUSSELL,
Editor-in-chief.

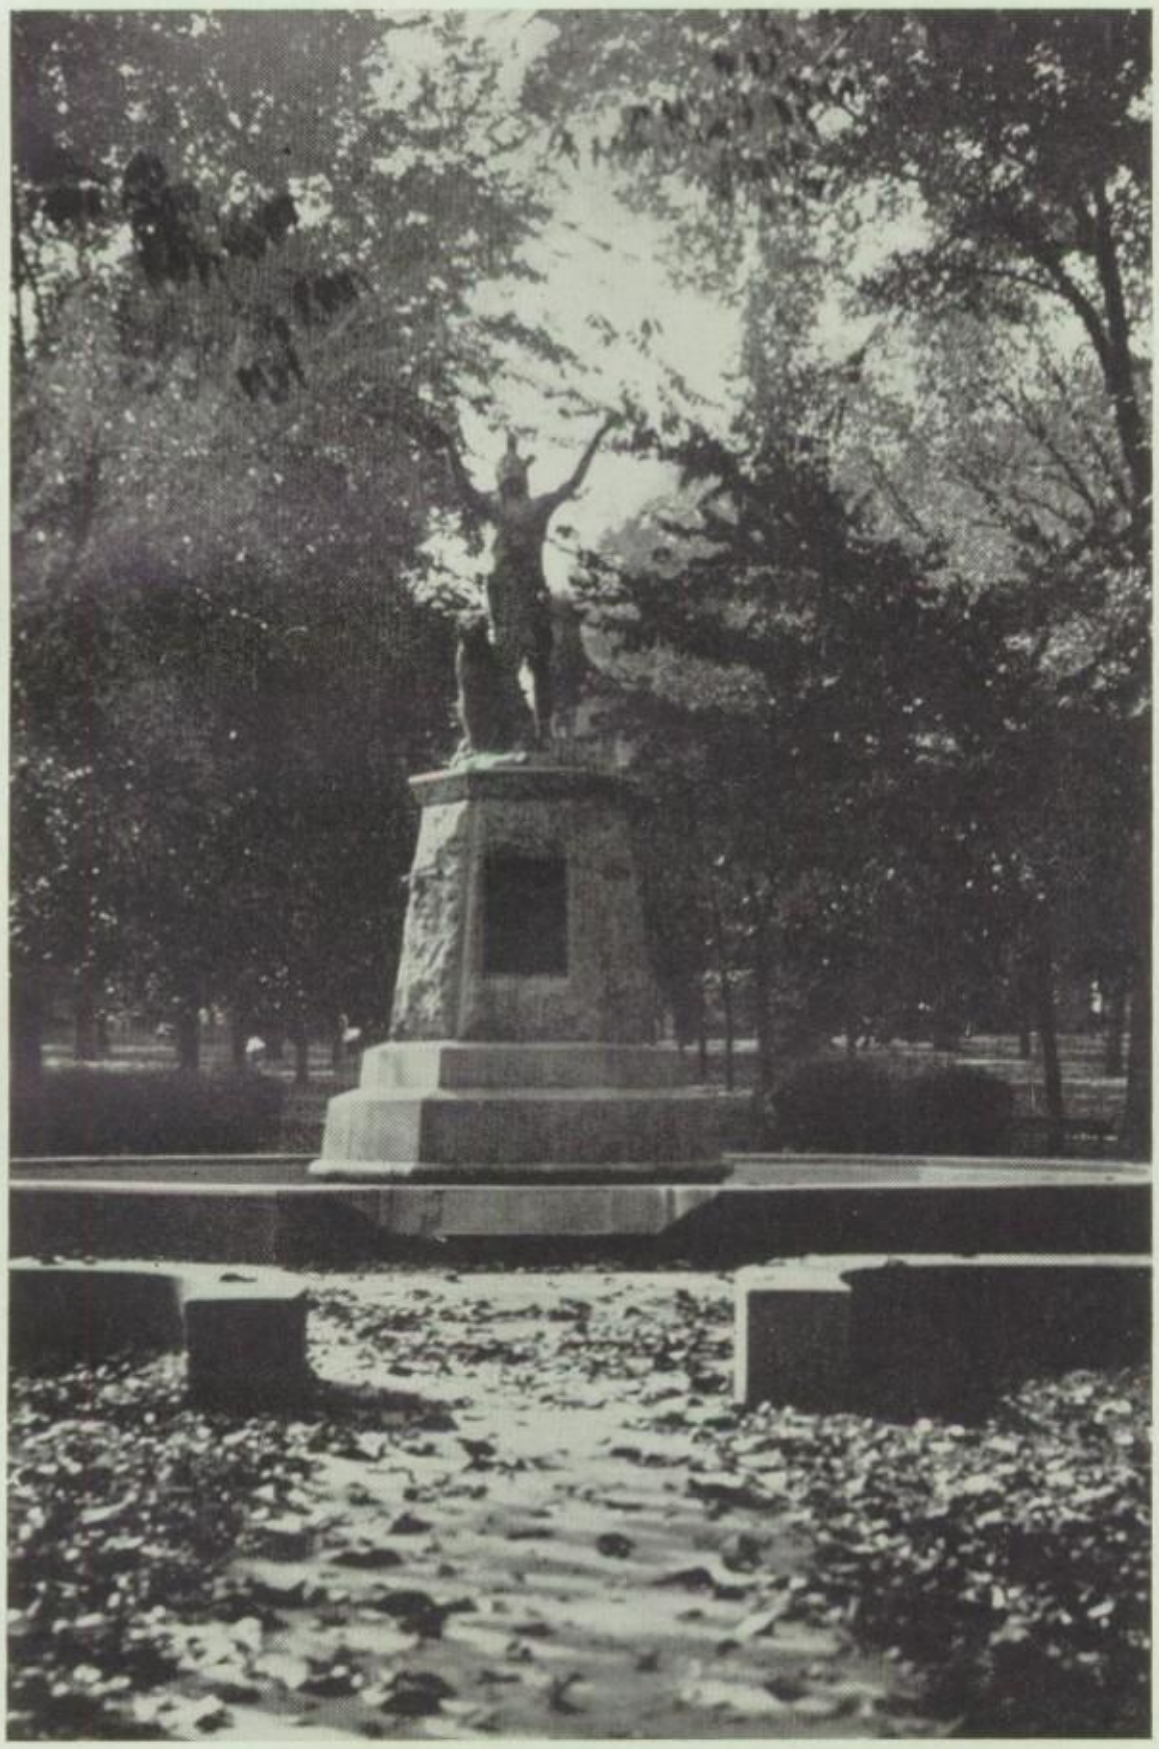
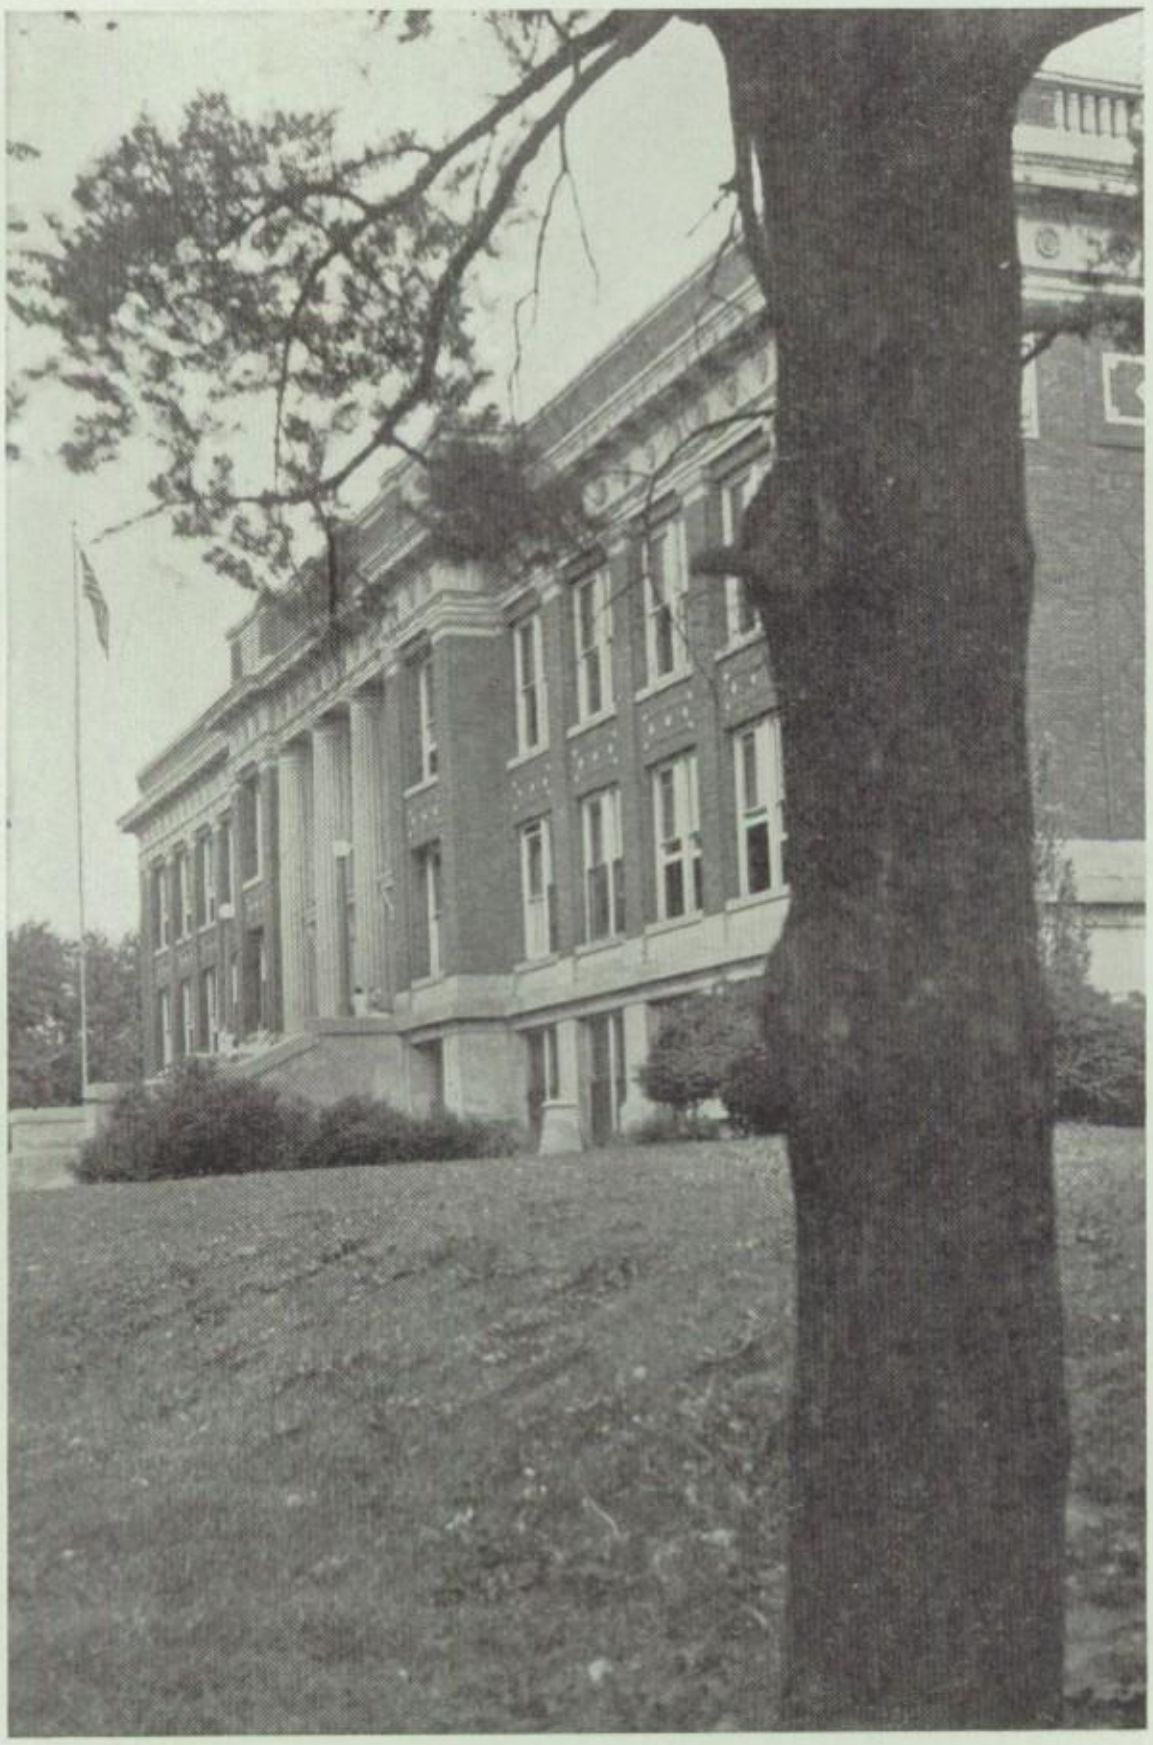
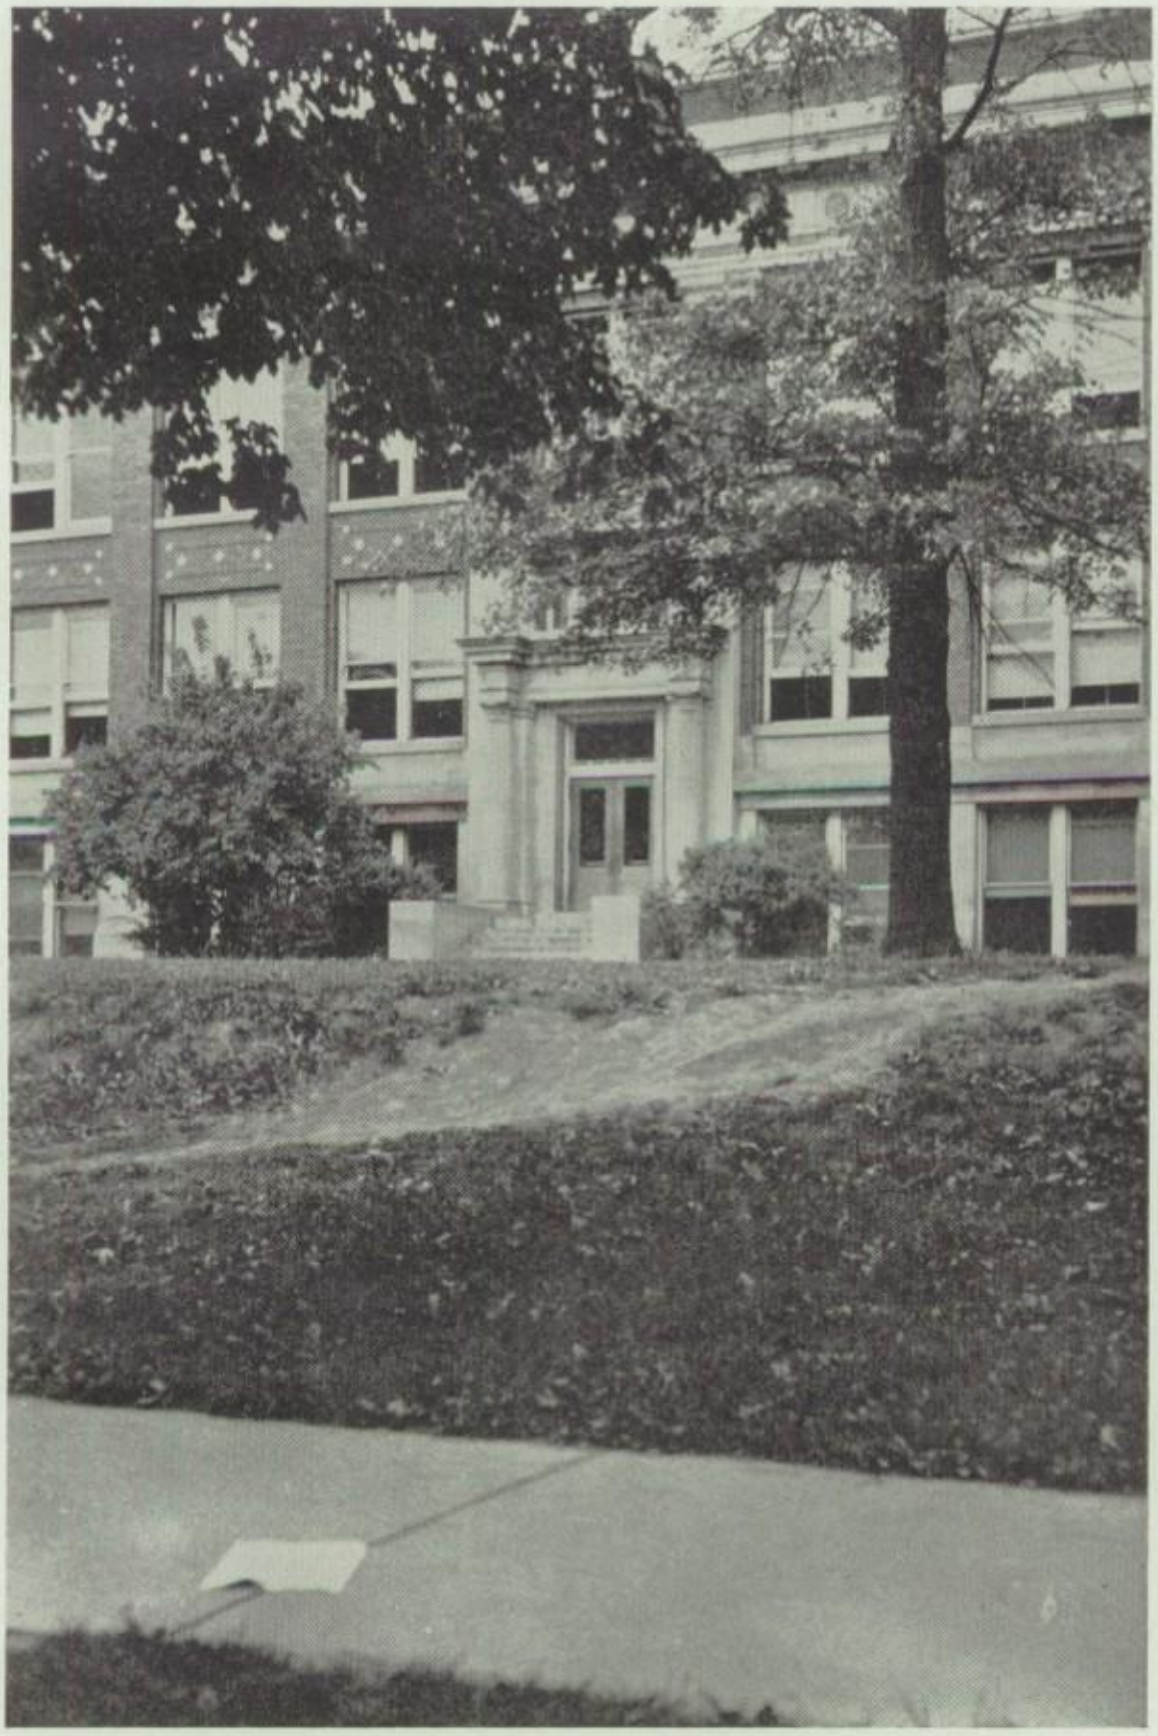
In the midst of Champaign's most picturesque and changeable spot of beauty, the West Side Park, an ancient medicine man lifts his arms to the heavens with "The Prayer for Rain." The gift of Benjamin F. Johnson, the statue has achieved the wish of its donor in bringing joy to the seers.



Beyond the sturdy pine tree stands a house of learning with stores of knowledge incased within its walls --- Champaign High School.



These majestic trees of the East Lawn have seen the development of our institution of learning through many years of careful planning by our pioneers of education.



The great prairie country was less lonely when the characters of fiction were brought to the settlers of Champaign County by the founding of a library in 1876. Nineteen years later the present library building was erected.

Mr. Nickell

When a group of people were planning to leave their homes in the eastern states to come to the unsettled west, there was usually one man among them who possessed faith in their adventure and a charity of vision with the future.

The Superintendent of Schools, Mr. Vernon Nickell, has looked into the future and has seen some of the things that may arise to confront the students of tomorrow.

But his faith in those who are the students of today, is as great as it was when these same students were in grade schools.

Mr. Allison

Wherever the covered wagon of the pioneer days was destined to go, there was always a man walking abreast, with his own wagon. This man, who possessed foresight and determination to get ahead, was a fearless and a good leader.

In Mr. Carl W. Allison, principal, one can find this determination which he has for the students to advance and to get ahead. He knows what is most needed, and then he tries to have that need instilled in the minds of the students whom he is to lead.

Miss Chaffee

A pioneer woman was first in many phases of her work. She could be counted on for almost any task that had to be done within a short time.

This same quality of service is found in Miss Eleanor Chaffee. At any time she will do all that she can to help a student along his desired path.

She has been called upon to alter an entire schedule at the eleventh hour, and she has given her views to some student who had come to her for assistance in the doing of a new and strange deed.

That sterling quality of service has, indeed, been exemplified in our vice-principal, Miss Chaffee.

N. Gresham.

English Department

Amy W. Turrell, 1930-'31

Sitting: Miss Gibson, Miss Kaden, Miss Weed, Mrs. Turrell.
Standing: Miss Harding, Miss Schroeder, Miss Gresham, Miss Scott, Miss Davis, Mr. Flowers, Miss Swigart.

The English Department under the chairmanship of Miss Vera Kaden provides thorough instruction in composition and literature, and aims to develop appreciation of prose, poetry, drama and originality of thought and facility in writing correct English.

The department includes freshman, sophomore, junior, and senior English, journalism, public speaking and dramatics.

Plants, animals, organic materials, and energy are studied in the science department in order to acquaint us with our environment and to control it. This department is under the capable chairmanship of Miss Nellie Bates.

The sciences are divided into two groups—natural and physical. In the natural sciences, courses in botany and biology are offered; physics and chemistry as physical sciences, and general science is classified as both.

Sitting: Mr. Rumble, Mr. Gooding.
Standing: Mrs. Cook, Miss Bates, Miss Bamberger.

Science Department

Foreign Language Department

Sitting: Miss Beach, Miss Swigart
Standing: Miss Schroeder, Miss LeSure

To learn to read in the different languages, to study customs, people, and the history of the countries, and through this knowledge to understand our own customs, history and people are the aims of the foreign language department, whose chairman is Miss Beryl Schroeder. Courses in Latin, Spanish, French, and German are offered.

Social Science Department

Down through the ages, history endeavors to give the students an intelligent knowledge of the world and is now studied to make the students better citizens. This department with Mr. Karl Kluever as chairman offers courses in sociology, economics, world, ancient, and American history, civics, and geography.

Sitting: Miss Jenista, Mrs. Smith.
Standing: Mr. Bottenfield, Miss Harding, Miss Still, Mr. Kleuver.

Mathematics Department

Standing: Mr. Esworthy, Mr. Clark, Mr. Fuqua.
Sitting: Miss Bamberger, Miss Bassett, Miss Cunningham.

One of the most practical subjects included in the school curriculum is mathematics, for it enables a student to apply its principles to great sciences. This department under the chairmanship of Mr. William Clark offers courses in freshman algebra, advanced algebra, solid geometry, trigonometry, and business arithmetic.

The Commercial Department, headed by Mr. Howard Stewart, has embodied in its teaching the following aim: To give the student an intelligent picture of what sort of opportunities there are for him in the business and the qualifications needed to give him a vocational field that is useful as well.

Howard Stewart

Commercial Department

Standing: Mr. Campbell, Mr. Stewart.
Sitting: Miss Lycan, Miss Jones.

Standing: Mr. Simon, Mr. Hyland, Mr. Ong, Mr. Monachesi.
Sitting: Miss Hibbs, Mrs. Stark, Miss Stansell.

Fine and Applied Arts

Fine and applied arts is considered one of the most colorful departments in Champaign High School. Extensive courses are offered in each of the following: foods, clothing, mechanical drawing, wood shop, auto mechanics, band, orchestra and music theory.

The Home Economics Department is under the direction of Miss Lucille Stansell and Mrs. Helen Stark. Miss Ruth Hibbs has charge of the art, while Mr. Libero Monachesi is the only instructor in music. Mr. Harold Ong and Mr. Ernest Simon have charge of the shop work.

Physical Education And Others

In the Physical Education Department, Mr. Lester Moyer, the sports coach, supervises the freshman-sophomore boy's gym classes, while Mr. Roy Swindell directs them in swimming. Girl's physical education is directed by Miss Daisy Quarles.

The office is supervised by Miss Frances Light assisted by Miss Pearl Croslin. The school library is under the supervision of Miss Margaret Glenn.

Standing: Mr. Moyer, Mr. Swindell.
Sitting: Miss Croslin, Miss Quarles, Miss Light, Miss Glenn.

EDUCATION

As the pioneers bade goodbye to their old homes, they beckoned civilization and schools to follow them, because they loved the refinements of life. Before a dozen land holders had gathered, we find a school house had been erected. The first public school to appear in Champaign County was in 1855, and it was known as the "Little Brick School." In 1857 there were 46 schools, 27 of which were kept in log cabins heated by a tall stove and furnished with four-legged benches.

Long before the adoption of the free school system in Illinois, there grew up in most of the county-seats of the State, seminaries of learning where young men might be prepared for college. As early as 1852 a movement was initiated in Urbana for the establishment of such an institution.

In 1867 the University of Illinois was established permanently in Champaign and Urbana. The coming of the University of Illinois to this county was the greatest event in its history next to the coming of the Illinois Central railroad.

Our secondary schools were introduced into this community in 1871 with two high schools, East and West, located on the sites where Avenue School and Marquette School now stand. With the consolidation of the two, a new building was erected in 1893 where Central School is now situated. The present building was erected in 1914. With an enrollment of 1195 our high school compares very favorably in supervision, records, teachers, instruction, and scholarship with the best high schools in the state.

SENIOR CLASS OFFICERS
Mr. Clark, Kenneth Mayes, Wayne Hawkins, Jimmie Haines, Homer Bash, Miss Quarles

Senior Class History

With Miss Daisy Quarles and Mr. William Clark remaining faithful for the entire four years, one hundred and eighty-eight seniors are expected to receive their diplomas at Commencement on June 2.

Scholastically, the class is headed by Robert Cain, valedictorian, and Ellis Wilhoyt, salutatorian. Mrs. Cook's advisory group, for keeping the highest average, were entitled to the flag trophy for two consecutive quarters.

The senior Invitation Committee under the chairmanship of Genevieve Lewis were responsible for the choosing of an entirely new type of announcement. The selected card is of the panel type needing no folding and bearing the same Maroon and Gold seal as that found on the class ring. The others on the committee were Gene White, Albert Mulliken, Mary Catherine Wise, and Wayne Hawkins.

The Commencement Committee, which has made plans for all events which will take place during Commencement Week, was made up of a special committee of ten students, the president of the class, and a committee of faculty members. This committee divided into groups, each group making the plans for one event of the week, Baccalaurate, Class Day, and Commencement. The members of the committee were Ellis Wilhoyt, Jack Caldwell, Albert Mulliken, Bob Russell, Allen Brubaker, Wayne Hawkins, Virginia Thompson, Genevieve Lewis, Barbara Howell, Frances Russell, and Dorothy Tate. The faculty committee was composed of Miss Vera Kaden, Mr. Heber Rumble, Miss Amy Beach, Miss Fern Lycan, Miss Fannie Weed, and Miss Nina Gresham.

Junior Class History

Since this class believes in a good beginning and then in keeping the good work up, they started out by electing Bob Castelo as president; Dorcella Boas, vice-president; Sam Hayes, secretary, and Wanda Spencer, treasurer; the advisers were Miss Lycan and Mr. Stewart. These officers have fulfilled their duties as leaders of the class of 1934. The effort put forth by them to produce school spirit and enthusiasm has been outstanding throughout the school year.

Wanda Spencer, Katheryn Shanks, Virginia Sackett, Dorothea Creighton, Margorie Strohl, Ann Norton, and Walter Diener were taken into Wig and Paint this year.

A little later a committee composed of Charles Petry, June Turner, Frank Larabee, Marjorie Strohl, and Thomas Casper were chosen by the class president to secure the Junior class pins and rings. The rings and pins which were chosen were black onyx on gold with a thunder bird crest.

"The Cat o' Nine Tails," a mystery play, was selected by Mr. Flowers for the Junior play. The members of the cast were: Miss Smith, Katheryn Shanks; Mr. Fox, Paul Woods; Jacob Webber, Charles Petry; Betty Webber, Virginia Gordon; Henry, John Fluck; Theodore Maitland, Bernice Bennett; Mrs. Gordon, June Turner; Mr. Gordon, Marvin Upton; Jimmie Gordon, Tom Casper; Bridget, Virginia Mayer; Peggy, Thelma Nesmith.

Jimmie Madix and Walter Diener, two of the school cheer leaders, were juniors.

Sophomore Class History

The class of '35, upon entering their second year at Champaign High, chose as officers Bob Petry, president; Jane Chambers, vice-president; Warren Brubaker, secretary; Howard Russell, treasurer; and Mr. Flowers and Miss Scott, advisers.

A vocational study plan was worked out by the teachers of the sophomore advisory groups. Each teacher talked upon some vocation to different home room groups. In this way many phases of work were discussed.

In the nine advisory groups the following people were elected as officers: Bates—president, Mary Jane Bassett; vice-president, Stanley Baker; secretary-treasurer, Peggy Lyons. LeSure—president, Norma Jean Gillingham; vice-president, Junior Hornkohl; secretary-treasurer, Robert Moore. Smith—president, Virginia Littler; vice-president, Barbara Moore; secretary-treasurer, John Meyer. Swigart—president, Hedwig Shroyer; vice-president, Katherine Root; secretary-treasurer, Charles Romine. Stansell—president, Frances Readey; vice-president, June Norman; secretary-treasurer, Paul Pickens. Scott—president, Edward Ebert; vice-president, Pauline Dieckman; secretary-treasurer, Glenn Donaldson. Flowers—president, Renard Koehnemann; vice-president, Anita Knapp; secretary-treasurer, Anna Lessares. Esworthy—president, Mary Wilson; vice-president, Betty White; secretary-treasurer, Wilbur Yocum. Lycan—president, Thelma Swerinsky; vice-president, Patty Souder; secretary-treasurer, Eleanor Sweney.

On the gridiron, on the hardwood floor, and on the baseball diamond members of the sophomore class were represented: in football, Jim McDonald, Wilbur Ayers, Erol Sparks, Neil Kennedy, and Dick Sizer; in basketball, Warren Buswell and Joshua Parker; and in baseball, Warren Buswell.

On the bright, sunny day of September 3, the class of 1933 filled with high hopes and ambition entered the spacious halls of Champaign High School. It was a great day for the 454 new pupils of our great institution.

The freshman class outnumbered any other group in the school, having 214 girls and 240 boys. After several weeks, when these students became better acquainted with each other they elected class officers. Bob Spivy was chosen president; Bob Bradbury, vice-president; Max Mortensen, treasurer, and Marjorie Smythe, secretary.

At the end of the first semester sixteen freshmen were making the Honor Roll. They were Darwin Kirby, 5.00; Jo Ellen Stevens, 4.75; James Blacker, 4.50; John Woods, 4.50; Dan Hazen, 4.50; Allen Platt, 4.50; Louise Genung, 4.40; Louis Scott, 4.40; Robert Moore, 4.25; John Morris, 4.25; Catherine Welker, 4.25; Colleen Kirk; 4.25; Martha Myers, 4.20; Charlotte Meharry, 4.00; Virginia Bowser, 4.00; John Shapland, 4.00.

Amid their many duties necessary to the sustenance of themselves and their families, our pioneers were not lost to the love of amusements. Hunting the wild animals, which lived and roamed over these prairies before their lairs were broken up by cultivation, was engaged in by men and boys universally. One of the most popular and largely practiced sports in hunting was known as the "Circle Hunt."

The "shooting match" once so popular as a means of amusement has nearly faded out. However, it had its time and deserves to be mentioned. Contests for equine excellence prevailed in this county and have found their antidote in the county fair. Sleigh-riding from the towns where a considerable crowd could be gathered to some out of town house was common in winter, when but little snow was necessary upon the prairies to render the sport of the best character. Time and events following in the wake of civilization have nearly closed this chapter of our history.

Now the sports of "ye higher realms of education" assume a very important place in the activities of the community. Since 1897 the incentive for winning championships has prevailed, for it was in that year that the famous football team presented Champaign High School with a football championship.

LESTER R. MOYER

Champaign High School was fortunate enough some eleven years ago to secure the services of our Director of Athletics, Mr. Lester Moyer. In those eleven years that Coach Moyer has served as head coach, he has produced state football champions, state basketball finalists, and baseball teams that have been a credit to the school. He has literally put Champaign on the map in athletics. From the looks of the trophy cases and the offices of the principal and Mr. Moyer, you would know that Champaign teams have been places and done things under Les Moyer.

COACHING STAFF

Because of the capacity burden this year in all departments, Coach Moyer did not receive as much aid in coaching from faculty members as he has previous years.

Mr. Moyer's able assistant, Ray Esworthy, helped coach the varsity football team and also produced a successful Pony team. Roy Swindell coached the tank men, while William Clark again moulded a track team.

The football, basketball, and baseball as well as the physical education classes gave material for Coach Moyer to develop during the 1932-33 school year.

First row: McTaggart and Mascot "Toots."

Fifth row: Mr. Moyer, Hayes, Petry, Brubaker, Peterson, O'Byrne, Arbuckle, Johnson, Esworthy.

Varsity Football

This year's football squad of 60 boys was one of the largest that ever reported to Coach Lester Moyer and his assistants and was able to rank favorably with the successful teams of Champaign High School.

The first two weeks the boys worked very hard learning new plays and getting into condition for the first game on September 16th—a night game on McKinley Field. Champaign won by a score of 27 to Peoria Spalding's 0. This game indicated that Champaign was going to be a contender for the Big Twelve championship.

Saturday, September 24, the team went to Chicago to play Lindblom, only to be beaten in the last minute of the game by a score of 24-18.

After working hard the next week they journeyed to Mattoon to win by a score of 20-0. In this game Coach Moyer used some 30 men.

The following week-end the team was unable to score against a strong Georgetown team.

About 30 Champaign football players journeyed to the Hilltop City, only to be beaten 12 to 0 by a strong Peoria Central team. In this game all the breaks seemed to be against Les Moyer's scrappy fighters.

After a crushing defeat by Peoria, Champaign came back to defeat one of the best teams that Decatur has had for several years by a score of 20 to 0.

The fellows seemed to be inspired by their win over Decatur the previous week and beat a team from Danville that had been going places. Champaign's offense was too much for them and when the final gun was shot, Champaign was again on top with 19 points to Danville's 0.

First row: Mortensen.
Second row: Moore, Smith, Kessler, Bradbury, Dahl, Petry.
Third row: Wilson, Fogarty, Gilbert, Clifford, Russell, Sullivan.
Fourth row: Hamel, Peeler, Parker, Scott, Britt, Hoon, Strode.

Freshman-Sophomore Football

November the twelfth, Coach Lester Moyer took the entire first squad and several members of the freshman-sophomore team to play one of Champaign's oldest rivals, namely Bloomington. Champaign won by a score of 14 to 0.

Thanksgiving day came and every chap on the football squad was keyed up to the *n*th degree waiting for the starting whistle of the Champaign-Urbana game. The two traditional rivals met upon the field in Memorial Stadium. The outcome was what every Champaign citizen looked for, a victory for Champaign. In the closing moments of the game, Les Moyer sent in an entirely new team composed of sophomores and juniors and it looked as though another minute of play would have made the score 18 to 0 instead of 13 to 0 as it was.

Ponies

This year's team was composed of "Whitey" Smith, Robert Moore, Jack Hodges, Bill Wiese, Joe Yeaw, Jack Smith, Carl Canady, Francis Kesler, Bob Bates. All received Pony letters. Other squadmen were Howard Russell, Dan Smith, Bill Grumly. The Ponies tasted defeat by Carl Tutman's Monticello second and by their old rival Urbana reserves.

Coach Esworthy was greeted by a large squad at the beginning of the season and he rounded it into one of the best Pony teams in the history of the school.

Varsity Basketball

Champaign High School annexed another second place in the Big 12 Conference this year by taking second place in basketball.

The only defeat that the Moyermen suffered was one by Champaign's oldest rival, Urbana. The final score was Urbana 24-Champaign 11, and after this setback that meant the loss of a championship for Champaign the boys got back on a winning basis.

This years' team lost 6 games and won 20 which is one of the best records that a Champaign team has made for some few years.

Throughout the season the fighting Champaign boys trailed eight teams at the half time but came back strong to eke out victories in the closing seconds of play. In the first Mattoon game it was in the last 45 seconds that Champaign was trailing 17-15 when Wayne Hawkins put in a basket from the side and Joe Ponder followed suit. The result was Champaign 19-Mattoon 17.

This year Champaign played all but one of its conference games away from home. The only team that played in the Champaign gym was Bloomington and it was in that game Champaign ran up its largest score in conference play by beating Bloomington 37-13. The second game was another one of those ball games that it was just intestinal fortitude that kept the Champaign team in the game. Champaign eked out a victory in the overtime period by the uncanny shooting of Ralph Bonanel and Bob Castelo.

The curtain fell to end the basketball season when Mahomet beat Champaign in the final game of the district tournament.

Intramural Basketball

The Trojans emerged from the 1933 intramural basketball season as champions by defeating the Eagles in the final playoff. The Pansies came through to win the lightweight division by eking out a victory over the Nerts, the runners-up. The director of the tournament was Coach Lester Moyer.

The students that helped Mr. Moyer this year were: Student manager, Marvin Hout; the officials, Bob Doty and Harold Kirk; and timekeeper and scorer, Charles Bradbury. This group of officials picked the mythical "All Star" teams.

On the first team they placed Bob Russell of the Lily Pickers and Owen Gilbert of the Eagles at forwards, Bill Dolan of the River Rats center, and Tom Butler of the Trojans and Frank Larabee of the Eagles at the guard posts. The second team was composed of Melvin Kerr, Eagles, and Jack Smith, Cubs, at forwards; Charles Clancy of the Trojans at center and Francis Barrett, Trojans, and Weldon Savage of the Lily Pickers were the judges' choices for the guard positions. Those receiving honorable mention are the following: Forwards—Vaughn (Trojans), Hayes (Cubs), Pfeifer (Dark Horses), Babb (Romeos); Centers—Ebert (Romeos), Mulliken (Lily Pickers), Merrill (Wild Cats); guards—Shroyer (Eagles), Nelson (Eagles), and Yeaw (Cubs).

This year there were 20 teams in intramural competition with about 200 boys participating.

The winning heavyweight team was composed of Francis Barrett, Harold Cates, Charles Clancy, Cyrus Vaughn, Thomas Butler, and Charles Conover. The lightweights were: Wilber Yocum, Warren Brubaker, Will Ed Wilson, John Messinger, and Charles Romine.

BOB RUSSELL
Captain

This year's team was composed of Captain Bob Russell, Captain-elect Tom Casper, Art Fosnaugh, Bob Petry, Gene White, Loren Louks, and Weldon Savage, who received their letters and the remainder of the team were Howard Hill, Ross Mayer and Bob Bailey, all of whom received numerals.

Those men that placed in the Conference meet were Tom Casper, first in the backstroke event; Captain Russell, second in the dives; Bob Petry, fourth in the same event; Ross Mayer, fourth in the 100-yard breaststroke; and Loren Louks, fourth in the 40-yard free style. Both the medley and free style relay teams took third place. The medley relay team was composed of Casper, Savage, and Fosnaugh, while the free style relay team was made up of Russell, White, Savage, and Louks.

The following men will form the nucleus of next year's team: Captain-elect Tom Casper, Weldon Savage, Loren Louks, Howard Hill, Dermit Estridge, Allan Platt, Bob Petry, Bob Bailey, Ross Mayer, Fred Summers.

First row: McQueen, Louks, Sparks, Upton, H. Shirley, Capt. James, O'Byrne, Irle, Smith, Brewer, Nofftz.

Track Season of 1932

This year an effort is being made to excel the records set by the 1932 track team which was not quite able to live up to the high standards of athletic teams of Champaign High. The season of 1932 started with a quadrangular meet on their own field in which they took first place, trailed by Urbana, Rantoul, and Mahomet, in the order given. Champaign scored 51¾ points while the next team, Urbana, scored 47¾. Their second meet was with Urbana on the Urbana field. Champaign was forced behind by the close score of 60-57, but regained their glory in a field meet at Danville on April 22 in which they gave a brilliant display by beating Urbana, Danville, and Mattoon. In this meet Elba Bales led the scoring drive with 14 points to his credit for the meet, twice the number scored by the next highest scorer, Russell James.

The last of April, Champaign fell before Peoria Central with 23 points and Rantoul with 14 points, but was able to squeeze out ahead of Urbana by half a point in the Urbana relays.

The next week in the conference meet, Champaign was only able to place 10th while in the District the team bowed to take fourth place because of the superiority of Monticello, Westville, and Urbana in the scoring.

Letters were awarded for the 1932 track season to: Elba Bales and Otto Zimmerman who won 35 points in meets, Bert Shauger winning 20 points during the season, Lauren Turner who turned in 14 points to his credit, Roy Williams earning 30½, Russell James with 27, Sid Brewer claiming 14 and Ray Moore showing 10 2/3 points to his credit.

RUSSELL JAMES
Captain

First row: Cannady, Hout, Lewis, Grant holding "Toots," Barrett, Peterson.
Second row: Coach Moyer, Bailey, Parker, Johnson, Hawkins (Capt.), Chick, Schmidt, Castello, Grumley (Mgr.).
Standing: Wheeler, Sizer, Ayers, Berbaum, Smith, Ponder, Russell.

BASEBALL

With a nucleus of four lettermen from last year's undefeated diamond aggregation as his foundation, Coach Moyer has already built a 1933 Maroon baseball team that bids fair to equal, if not to supersede, the record of its immediate predecessor. Although rained out of more than one contest, the Champaign High squad has been able to wallop all foes in its warmup campaign.

Captain Wayne Hawkins, Harold Grant, Wilbur Ayers, Charles Smith and Cleo Johnson have been sharing the pitching burden among themselves with Harry Lewis and Gene Wheeler alternating behind the plate. Bob Castelo has secured a strong hold on the keystone sack, Max Peterson and Francis Barrett are fighting it out at second base, Barrett and Canady monopolize the shortstop position, and the veteran Dale Schmidt covers third base territory. In the outfield Joe Chick, Louis Hout, and Joshua Parker have been the most service. Carl Canady is developing into an exceptional hitter, and will probably assume the lead-off position in the batting order next season. He has been gaining quite a bit of experience as utility man during the 1933 diamond season.

Last season, the baseball team went through a season of no defeats and could well lay a claim to a mythical Big Twelve championship, for it buried its lone conference opponent, Bloomington, under a 9-5 score in the final game of the season. Armstrong, Ogden, Tolono, and University High of Normal each fell twice before the Maroon onslaught.

WAYNE HAWKINS

First row: Burgess, Black, Jones, Hood, Baldridge, Campbell, Bell.
Second row: Johnson, Yocum, Dahl, McTaggart, Sizer, Hawkins, Green.
Third row: Hout, Bennett, C. Johnston, Mayer, Moore, Mr. Redmond.

Wrestling

The climax of the wrestling season came on March 8 when Champaign played host in an invitational meet held in the Champaign gym in which individuals from nine teams entered. Coach Redmon's wrestlers came out victorious with 26 points to their credit with Danville running a close second with 22 points and Gibson City's team claiming third with 18 points. Although a cup was given to the team winning the most points, gold, silver and bronze medals were awarded to the individuals winning first, second and third in each weight division.

Of the eight wrestlers entered in the meet from Champaign, five were able to place. Captain Stanley Campbell and Captain-elect Richard "Babe" Green were awarded gold medals for first place in their weights while Burgess, Quinn Hood, and Lyle Nelson received second place honors.

When Champaign visited Danville in their first dual meet they were victorious by a score of 21-18. On the return visit of Danville an exciting draw match at the last of the meet tied the score 18½ to 18½. In a pair of meets with Gibson City, Champaign found nothing but defeat, 20-19 when wrestling here and 21-12 when away.

The outstanding wrestlers besides those mentioned above were: Cleo Johnson, Anthony Jones, Ralph Dahl, Raymond Moore, Charles McTaggart, Dwight Bell, Richard Sizer and John Johnson.

This was the second successful season that Coach Chuck Redmon has conducted a wrestling club from which winning teams have resulted. Wrestling has not yet assumed the proportions of a major sport, but it is hoped that in the near future it may become so.

GIRLS' ATHLETICS

Basketball and volleyball hold a prominent place in the fall activities of the girls' gym classes. Gymnastics, tumbling, relays, and dancing occupy the winter and spring months.

The year's work is concluded by a demonstration which gives the parents a chance to view the work done in class. "The Machine Age" was given this year on May 12. Water, fire, steam and electricity were classical numbers. Drills in marching, Indian clubs, relays, tumbling exercises, and folk dancing were given by the Freshman class. Class work in tap and original tap dances were given by the Sophomores.

All of this work is under the supervision of Miss Daisy Quarles who has proven herself a capable and efficient coach in all lines of girls' athletics.

Activities

Since the early '50s Champaign County has strongly supported every organization and interest which tended to develop its great agricultural resources and the abilities and enterprises of its farmers. From the first there was a deep realization of the desirability of cooperation and education along these lines. Out of this feeling grew the University of Illinois which was started to educate the farmers of this county.

Due to the fact that several Urbana residents objected to having a railroad built so close to the pastures of their cattle, the great Illinois Central Railroad built its station in West Urbana or what is now Champaign and really started the settlement. This agency was the means of drawing to the county thousands of its best men and women, and when transportation facilities were assured to bring them closely to markets and the people of neighboring counties and states, they remained to enjoy their homes and societies and assist in the further development of the localities in which they had settled.

Hand in hand with the building of the railroad was the growth of business, with the first general store opening in 1854, the first drug store opening in 1855, and with the opening of the first stove and tin store in the same year, the commerce has steadily developed.

Just as commerce and agriculture have become great activities in the lives of the citizens of the county, so have dramatics, music, clubs, and publications come to form a vital part in the every day life of the students.

For eight years the Student Council, composed of student representatives from each advisory group, has been the administrative body through which the laws of self-government are introduced and enforced. Student Council operates through committees which are responsible for the work assigned to them by the president. All questions relating to school activities are discussed and the opinions produced are submitted to the faculty for approval.

Among the outstanding things done this year by this group was the entire revision of the Constitution which was written in 1925. Due to various conditions the revision seemed necessary to promote the effectiveness of the Council. One of the main revisions was the power of Student Council to supervise the future home room and class elections.

The eighth year of this organization brought an increased field of activities. Not only did ot take the issuance of dates for Friday afternoon entertainments, but it took charge of several dances, the decoration of the Christmas tree, the patrolling of the halls, and the raising of money to help the "Big 12" meet.

The Council assisted the P. T. A. in setting up the Carnival, and it managed the dance in connection with the Carnival. With the Coloresque Club the Student Council sponsored a Christmas dance. Gay decorations made by the club increased the colorfulness of the dance.

Under the auspices of the Council an assembly was given by the Service clubs of Champaign.

National Honor Society

President . . . . . David Moses
Secretary-Treasurer . . . . Ruth Salladay

Scholarship, leadership, service, loyalty, and character were the basis on which the 29 students were selected for the National Honor Society this year.

Scholarship counts 60%, and only juniors and seniors in the upper third of their class are considered. Together with leadership goes initiative, executive ability, influence and helpfulness in improving the moral tone of the school and community. Service includes work for organizations and for the school, as well as personal service for teachers or voluntary service inside and outside the classroom. Under character is included dependability, observance of instructions and rules, punctuality, faithfulness, industry and power of concentration, together with honesty and truthfulness.

The students are nominated by ballots given out from the office to the students and teachers with the names of students who have an eligible scholastic standing. The candidates who receive the highest vote from the student body and from the faculty are nominated. Then the National Honor Society committee, which is headed by Miss Amy Beach, checks the student vote and compiles the final list which must be approved by the faculty.

The seniors taken into the society this year were: Richard Franklin, Jack O'Byrne, Kenneth Mayes, Jean Readey, Grace Fitch, Mildred Fletcher, Beth Fowler, Frances Russell, Beverly Mortensen, Anita Milleville, Zelma Holl, Dorothy Caldwell, Mary Hulse, Louise Watts, Ralph Bonnell, Lola Schroeder, and Joe Ponder.

The juniors admitted were: Emily Foote, June Turner, Wanda Spencer, Sara Johnson, Dorothy Wolfe, Edward Manthei, Howard Messman, Paul Woods, Eloise Isley, June Scott, Sybil Homann, and Julianna White.

First row: Fowler, Mortensen, Solon, Russell, Tate, Salladay, Grant.
Second row: Porter, Busch, Fletcher, McGinty, Coonrod, Howell, Johnson, Foote.
Third row: Woods, Scott, Turner, Dolan, Milleville, Newcomb, Miss Gibson.

Quill and Scroll

President	Ruth Salladay
Secretary	Mary Solon
Sponsor	Miss Genevra Gibson

Quill and Scroll, the International Honorary Society for High School Journalists, initiated nine seniors and seven juniors in the assembly April 10 and April 13. Those on the MAROON staff that were initiated were: Marjorie Coonrod, art editor; Barbara Busch, art assistant; Beth Fowler, business manager; and Emily Foote, Sara Johnson, and June Scott, junior editors.

Those on the Chronicle staff were: Beverly Mortenson, school editor; Clara McGinty, business manager; Anita Milleville, circulation manager; June Turner, Paul Woods, Deborah Newcomb, and Frances Grant, news editors; Mildred Fletcher, special reporter; and Catherine Dolan, editorial writer.

In order to be eligible for membership into this society a student must have done outstanding work in writing, editing, art or in business management. Also, he must be of junior or senior standing with a three-point average. Samples of his work are submitted to the national officer for approval.

In the letter received from Mr. Edward Nell, national secretary, he commented on the year's work as follows: "The samples of both the members of the MAROON and Chronicle staffs show the results of careful training. I notice, too, the excellent production records of several of these students."

The members initiated last year are Ruth Salladay, Mary Solon, Frances Russell, Dorothy Tate, and Allen Porter. This club is under the supervision of Miss Genevra Bush Gibson, publications adviser.

Second row: Campbell, Petry, Mayer, Sizer, McDonald, Canaday.
Third row: Schmidt, Shroyer, Williams, Moore.

National Athletic Scholarship Society

In 1933 eleven members were initiated into the National Athletic Scholarship Society, the largest number of letter men ever elected into the society.

To belong to this national organization, one must win at least one letter in one of the four major sports, which are football, basketball, baseball, and track. A scholastic average above that of the school for three consecutive semesters, and must be attained by each pledge, which means that a "C" average or above is necessary.

The National Athletic Honor Society was organized at Champaign High School in 1929. Four charter members were seniors at Champaign High School including Homer Bash, Joseph Ponder, Jack O'Byrne and Russell James. Homer Bash was its acting president.

The initiation into this society was held in two assemblies on February 20 and February 23, with Joe Ponder reading the requirements for membership, after which both the old and the new members took the oath of the organization. "Weenie" Wilson, assistant football coach of the University of Illinois, gave a talk on sportsmanship.

The boys who were initiated into the society in the Monday assembly and their averages were Roy Williams 3.5; James McDonald, 2.625; Loren Turner, 2.38; Max Mayer, 2.33; Carl Canady, 2.125; and Richard Sizer, 2.125.

The Thursday assembly ushered in the following members: Raymond Moore, 2.78; Charles Petry, 2.5; Dale Schmidt, 2.33; Bill Shroyer, 2.416; and Stanley Campbell, 2.666.

Miss Opal C. Cunningham is the sponsor for the honorary organization.

"C" Club

President	Wayne Hawkins
Vice-president	Robert Russell
Secretary-Treasurer	Clifton Siler

There are six aims of the "C" Club. They are to promote scholarship among athletes; to cooperate in selling tickets and making financial success of athletic events; to set an example of good conduct and good sportsmanship; to promote good fellowship among members by social functions; to preserve all athletic equipment issued to students and to promote interest in athletics.

Twenty-one athletes who have been awarded letters in either football, basketball, track, swimming, or baseball were initiated into the "C" Club in March. They were: Joe Ponder, Homer Bash, Jim Livett, Stanley Campbell, Thomas Casper, Charles Conover, Wilbur Ayers, Max Mayer, Max Peterson, Raymond Moore, Carl Canaday, Bob Castelo, Harvey Shirley, Jack O'Byrne, Dale Schmidt, Owen Ray, Arthur Fosnaugh, Bill Schroyer, Richard Sizer, Paul Pickens, Sidney Brewer, Charles McTaggart, and Warren Buswell.

During the year the club has sponsored a dance, furnished the Illini code for Tournaments during the District Tournament, given entertainment at the basketball games between halves, formed blocks at football games, and throughout the year the members have worn their "C" sweaters on meeting days.

To show that they had not forgotten their old teammate, the members of the "C" Club sent a MAROON to Carl Grolla, who was unable to attend school for the last semester on account of illness.

The Girl Reserves organization which is sponsored by Miss Fern Lycan, aims to develop the physical, mental, and spiritual powers of the thirty-two members of the club. This club is open to every girl in the school.

The activities of the first semester consisted of many interesting meetings, a majority of which were turned over to handicraft. The girls made brushes, mats and moccasins out of braid. Mrs. H. Clifford Northcott spoke on "The Girl of My Dreams" and a Czechoslovakian girl gave a talk on the customs of that country. At Christmas time the club provided a large basket of food for a needy family.

During the second semester, the Girl Reserves sponsored a movie, gave a Valentine party and went on hikes and wiener roasts.

A theme, "The Ship of Life," was used as a basis for the second semester's meetings. It represented the various stages through which every mature person passes, such as, youth, early middle age, later middle age, and old age. The meetings aimed to bring out and describe the worthwhile things which individuals of those ages might attain.

Secretary-Treasurer	Betty White
Sponsor	Miss Hibbs

Clay modeling and sketching from live models employed most of the time of the Coloresque Club during the last year. These youthful artists then made their models even more artistic by coatings of gold and silver paint.

Along with other activities at Christmas time, such as making bracelets, letter openers, pendants, jewelry boxes, and copper trays, the Coloresque club jointly sponsored a Christmas dance with the Student Council. The members of the club decorated the corridors with the impressive decorations at this annual affair.

At Valentine's Day a contest was held in the club. A box of oil paints was awarded to the one who made the most original valentine. With her valentine made artistic with cupids and hearts, Eloise Isley won the prize.

Early in the fall the art students spent much of their time in making outdoor water sketches, of the building, trees, and automobiles parked near the school house. This activity was resumed in the spring also. At this time the landscape was sketched.

During the W. C. T. U. poster contest, the club made many posters illustrating abstinence from smoking and alcohol. On these were the examples of all persons who abstained from intoxicating liquors and the active life they led and examples of persons who drank alcohol and the life of degradation they lead.

Miss Marceline Gougler, University of Illinois practice teacher, and Miss Ruth Hibbs, faculty advisers, were the sponsors of the club.

Debate Club

President . . . . . Eloise Isley
Vice-president . . . . . Ralph Collins
Treasurer . . . . . Alberta Van Patten

The past year has been an active one for members of the Debate Club. Since the season opened on Tuesday, February 28, with a debate at Farmer City, these high school orators, under the guidance of Mr. Karl Kleuver, have taken part in four Big Twelve debates and three non-conference debates. Although Bob Cain, who has been the mainstay of the club for the past three years, was the only experienced debater to report for work this year, the team developed to such an extent that when the season closed on April 5, with a hard debate with Danville, it held the admirable record of losing no debates and the distinction of tying with Decatur for conference championship.

Early in the year the Debate Club sponsored a movie in our auditorium as a Friday afternoon entertainment. This movie, Glenn Tryon in "Skinner Steps Out," furnished the club with the money necessary to start out the season.

Debates were held with Farmer City, Rantoul, Tuscola, Danville, and Mattoon. Bloomington and Urbana forfeited their debates, which we were scheduled to hold with them.

The affirmative team was composed of Mildred Rowland, Ralph Collins, Bob Cain, and Luada Porter. On the negative team were Alberta Van Patten, Charles King, and Juanita Kobel.

The subjects for the debates was "Resolved, that at least one-half of all state and local revenue should be derived from sources other than tangible property." This topic was the one used all over the United States in the many high schools.

Etiquette Club

President	Mary Kathryn Wise
Vice-president	Virginia Thompson
Secretary-Treasurer	Virginia Ehler
Adviser	Miss Still

Kindliness and grace combined with a sense of the proper conduct at all times constitute the goal for which the programs of the Etiquette Club were planned. Each Wednesday at 2:45 under the direction of Miss Iva Margaret Still, the girls gathered to practice etiquette or listen to lectures on: conduct on street and in public places of entertainment; formal and informal invitations; acceptances and regrets; short calls and visits; how to give luncheon and teas; what to say, how to dress, and correct table manners.

On some days a visitor, upon dropping into this room during the club period, might have been astonished at the sight presented. Although no food could be seen anywhere upon the plates, a formal dinner party would be in progress, and the indigestible delicacies would disappear with perfect grace as the imaginative consumer politely complied with the rules of decorum. All manners of such dramatizations were given by members of the club to emphasize the rules of polite society and to give the girl a clear insight of what is expected of a graceful woman, when she is hostess or guest.

A gay Christmas party was held at which the participants blossomed forth with newly acquired manners, for upon entering the club no one knew all of the rules. Now the girls can more fully express the characteristics of a lady.

Le Cercle Francais

President . . . . Savvaas Nicholoan
Vice-president . . . . Darwin Kirby
Secretary-Treasurer . . . Anita Milleville

During the first semester Le Cercle Francais under the supervision of Miss Beryl I. Schroeder, French instructor, sponsored a Friday afternoon movie, "The Hunchback of Notre Dame." The proceeds of this went to buy twenty-two copies of the book, "Columba," and a book of games and suggestions for future French clubs. All students who have taken French or are now enrolled in classes are eligible for membership in this club.

Meetings were held every Tuesday afternoon, tenth hour, with various programs for entertainment and the advancement of the French language. Reports were given on French scientists and musicians; French explorers in America and Quebec; and geographic, economic and educational conditions of France. Several French book reports were also given. Movies were given on "The World War" and "The Bretons in Brittony." Under the supervision of the practice teachers from the University of Illinois, French games were played. Some of them included French crossword puzzles, jigsaw puzzles on French subjects, French riddles and charades, card games, arithmetic problems with answers given rapidly in French, and spelling matches.

A wiener roast was planned in the fall, but because of rain it became a "boil" held in the Home Economics room. Miss Chaffee and Mr. Allison were the invited guests at the Christmas party. The hour was spent in reciting French poems, singing French songs, and giving reports on Christmas celebrations in Canada and France. Mr. Allison gave an interesting description of a French Christmas during the World War.

German Club

President	Richard Franklin
Vice-president	Thomas Schroeder
Secretary	Dorothy Siefman
Treasurer	Jack Ross

The German Club spent many hours learning about the great men of the past and present. They also learned about the present state of the government.

The president appointed four committees with Bernice Moore, chairman of the prorgam; Anita Milleville, chairman of the recreation; Alta Glandt, chairman of the refreshment committee; and Juanita Kobel, chairman of the general committee.

The second semester committee chairmen, including Grace Fitch, Robert Moore, Reba Kurzweg, and Jeanne Carver, were chosen respectively. The club was divided into four groups and with the help of Miss Steele, practice teacher from the University of Illinois, each group wrote a puppet play that was given later during meetings.

John Shapland's group received first prize on their play, "The Fairy Godmother," while Richard Franklin's group came second with a German version of "Amos 'n Andy." Robert Moore's group presented "The Ghost" while Reba Kurzweg's group used the Lindberg mystery as their theme and gave a scene called "The Kidnappers."

Besides puppet plays and current events, the members of the club were entertained at different times by speakers. Mr. Wm. J. Schreiber from the University of Illinois read some humorous German prose and poetry while Professor Williams from the University faculty took the club through Germany to "Der Schwartz Wald" (The Black Forest) by means of an illustrated lecture. Many of the pictures were taken while making the trip, and some were very difficult to get. Miss Alma Trevett took the club on another expedition in Germany with her illustrated lecture, "A Trip Down the Rhine."

Early in the spring the club made a visit to Lincoln Hall to see some of the German antiques that are there. The club also had a picnic at the Smith's Woods.

Miss Amy Beach, German instructor, is sponsor of the club.

Sponsor	Mr. Flowers

Presenting "The Importance of Being Earnest" and "The Christmas Play" occupied most of the time of the members of Wig and Paint, the dramatic club of Champaign High School, the first semester. During the second semester the members revised the constitution.

The fourteenth annual fall play, "The Importance of Being Earnest," was presented November 22 by members of Wig and Paint. It is a trivial comedy written by Oscar Wilde. Those that took part are: Charles Romine, Billy Hamlin, Al Mulliken, Mac Brubaker, Allan Porter, Wanda Spencer, Marjorie Strohl, Doris Benham, and Janet Beth Bailey.

"The Christmas Party," a one-act play, was presented in the Christmas assemblies, Thursday, December 22, and Friday, December 23, by Wig and Paint. The students taking part on Thursday were: Barbara Howell, Al Mulliken, Ann Norton, Janet Beth Bailey, Bill Hamlin, Dorothy Jane Hanley, Eleanor Secker, and Mary Jane Alexander.

The following participated in the assembly Friday: Anita Knapp, Al Mulliken, Genevieve Lewis, Virginia Sackett, Bill Hamlin, Helen Kuhn, Dorothea Creighton, and Mary Jane Alexander.

Each year Wig and Paint has try-outs for new members. This year two seniors, seven juniors and seven sophomores were taken into the society. Those selected this year were Ann Hyland, Carl Goldstein, Wanda Spencer, Kathryn Shanks, Virginia Sackett, Dorothea Creighton, Marjorie Strohl, Ann Norton, Walter Diener, Mary Jane Alexander, Helen Kuhn, Anita Knapp, Charles Romine, Warren Brubaker, Harry Lewis, and Bob Getman.

"Mary the Third"

The Senior play, "Mary the Third," a comedy in a prologue and three acts by Rachel Crothers, was presented in the High School auditorium on May 19.

The prologue of two acts was to show the love affairs of Mary the First and of Mary the Second. Act One took place in 1870 and Act Two in 1897.

The first act of the play took place during the summer of 1922 in the living room of the Robert Hollister (Mary the Second's husband) home. Mary the First, who is now Granny, is seventy-five years old, and Mary the Second, Mother, is forty-five. Mary the Third is twenty, and very much alive.

As the story goes, Mary the Third cannot decide whether to marry Lynn or Hal. One night as she returns home very late, she finds her brother Bobby waiting to tell her that her father is going to send her away. While the two are talking, they hear their mother and father coming down the stairs. The children immediately jump behind the curtains for safety, but while in hiding, hear their parents quarrelling.

During the rest of the play, Mary and Bobby try to straighten out things for their parents, but with Granny constantly giving her advice. Matters seem to get worse until Mother and Father decide that they really are in love with each other.

When it comes time for Mary to decide between Hal and Lynn, she finds that she does not believe in marriage, but with persuasion from Lynn, she tells him she will be his wife. Of course, Mary tells Lynn that she would not marry him if she didn't know that theirs was the love that would last forever.

Those who took part in the prologue were: Beverly Mortensen, Allen Porter, Jean Harris, Carl Goldstein, and Bill Hamlin.

Those in the play were: Mary Esther Ball, Louise Watts, Harriet McLean, David Moses, William Blair, Allen Brubaker, Eugene White, Genevieve Lewis, and Anita Milleville.

Mr. Max Flowers directed this play and it was the third of his very successful plays.

Trying to develop the student's own responsibility has been the aim of Mr. Max Flowers, dramatic coach, in his first year of teaching at the high school.

This has been realized in successful presentations of the fall play, the Christmas play and the Junior Class play. This theory has also been carried over into the assembly program committee of which Mr. Flowers is chairman. As a result, students have presented many interesting assemblies for the school.

MR. LIBERO MONACHESI
Music Director

During this year the music department has been advancing under the direction of Mr. Libero Monachesi. Among many other things, he prepared the band for two concerts, the orchestra for three, took the band through the district contest to the state and produced the operetta, "Miss Cherryblossom." Mr. Monachesi's sincere interest and faithfulness have been greatly appreciated by all. His untiring efforts and hearty cooperation have helped the entire school to complete a more successful year.

Band

The Champaign High School bands began work last fall under the leadership of a new conductor, Mr. Libero Monachesi.

The first band, consisting of approximately 75 members, met daily; the second band consisting of 20 members also met daily and the concert band, with 49 students, organized for students who were able to deal with more difficult music, met Wednesday evenings after school hours.

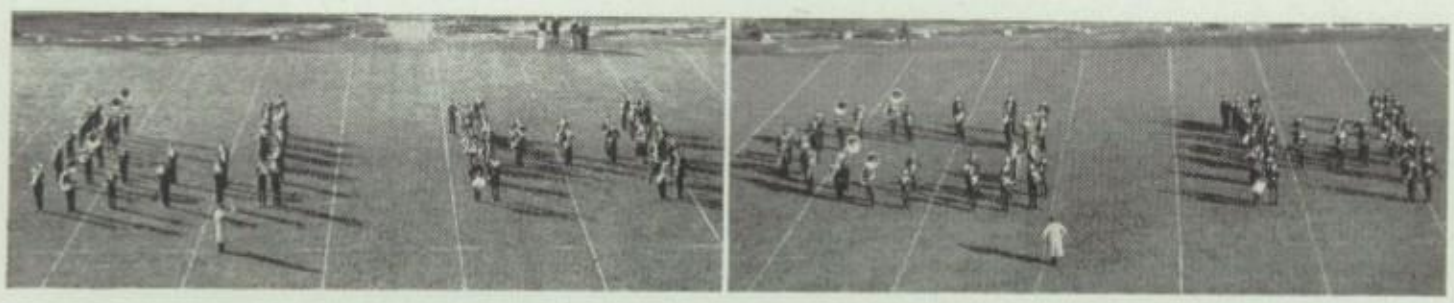
The first band appeared at many public performances including the Sectional Parent-Teachers' Association held in our auditorium, the State Teachers' Conference, and the Educational Parley held at the University of Illinois.

The marching band furnished music at all home football games and the Mattoon and Bloomington games, featuring different types of formations on the field. Many formations were formed on the University of Illinois Memorial Stadium field at the Champaign-Urbana football game. Billie Murray served as baton major. Music was furnished by the high school band at all the home basketball games and the Urbana and Danville games.

There were two complimentary concerts presented to the public during the past year. The first concert was given on December 16, and the second on April 12.

The band furnished entertainment for several assemblies and also at many of the pep assemblies and entertained at twilight concerts in the spring.

BAND FORMATIONS AT THE TURKEY DAY GAME



First row: Compton, B. Adams, Roberts, Hayes, Murfin, Lucka, Platt, Conover, Besore, Wheatley, Lyman, Schwengel.
Second row: Brubaker, Tate, Mayer, Waller, Sutton, Bell, E. McKiney, Fletcher, Waxler, Bez, Van Petten, Hardyman, Baum, G. Bair, Anderson, H. Bair, Bell, McCulley, Mulligan, John, Galeener, Savage, Bowser.
Third row: Adams, Mayes, Norton, Mr. Monachesi, Fowler, Moses, Accompanist Hazen.

ORCHESTRA

This year the orchestra, with approximately 45 members, was under the able direction of a new leader, Mr. Libero Monachesi. The orchestra was made a regular class, meeting every day during the second hour.

Three complimentary concerts were presented for the benefit of the students and their parents. The first concert of the year was given on November 8, in the Champaign high school auditorium. The features of this presentation were a violin duet by Blanche Adams and Delbert Compton and a sousaphone solo given by David Moses.

Featuring a piano solo by Dan Hazen, "The Second Hungarian Rhapsody" by Liszt and a violin duet by Delbert Compton and Blanche Adams, "La Cenquataine" by Gabriel Maria, the orchestra gave their first complimentary concert of the second semester in the auditorium on Sunday afternoon, March 12. The numbers the orchestra played were "Festal Overture" by Hazel; "Tales from Vienna Woods" by Strauss; "First Movement from the Military Symphony" by Haydn; "Norwegian Dance" by Grieg; "Andante" by Haydn; "Minuet in E flat" by Mozart; and "Knight Errant March" by King. The last orchestra concert of the year was presented May 21.

Furnishing music for all dramatic productions including the fall play, junior play, senior play, and the Christmas play was also work accomplished by the orchestra.

The clarinet quartet composed of Arthur Murfin, Allen Platt, Francis Kirby and Harold Bair, furnished music during an act of the annual Christmas Play, presented in the assemblies before Christmas vacation. They were also featured in an orchestra assembly.

The Champaign high school orchestra was also invited to play at the Parent-Teachers Sectional meeting held on April 19, in Danville, Illinois. The opportunity of playing at the Illinois Wesleyan contest held in Bloomington on May 22, was also given to the school musicians.

CHRONICLE

The Chronicle staff surprised the student body with a new six page paper which not only furnished them with all the school news but gave a greater opportunity to departmentalize the news. The staff was assisted by the members of the beginning newswriting class the first semester and by the advanced newswriting class the second semester.

The staff distributed to the student body free copies of the six page paper in order that each student might see what the staff proposed to do during the year.

The biggest scoop of the year was the story on the Mahomet-Urbana basketball game held during the district tournament. Other scoops on big stories were the fall play, Illinois State Press Conference, new members of Quill and Scroll, Junior class play, and Senior class play.

Among the columns of the Chronicle were found such humorous and dirt columns as "Gossip Gabber," "Sediment," "Slights 'n Flights," "Courtship Technique," "Gridiron Gossip," and "Chatter." There was also a short column named "Curious Clara," which was similar to a questionnaire. Santa Claus letters were found in the Christmas issue and all sorts of nonsensical stories were present in the April Fool issue.

There were also many important interviews during the year. Among these were a Kentucky Mountaineer who visited Champaign High School, Ruth Bryan Owens, who gave a political address at the High School, and Prof. Knipp who gave a talk on "Science as a Vocation."

At the end of the basketball season the staff published an eight page paper which contained short character sketches of each senior on the team and dope on the tournament. Nearly every copy of the paper printed was sold.

The subscription drive which was launched early in the fall was headed by Anita Milleville, circulation manager. The drive was not opened with an assembly as has been done in previous years. The paper was represented by two solicitors from each home room group who sold subscriptions to the paper.

Those selling 10 subscriptions, winning a down payment on their subscriptions, were Beth Fowler, Jack Foeresterling, Dorothy Hucket, and Jack Brown.

MAROON

Delving into the history of Champaign County, the MAROON staff under Frances Russell as editor in chief, spent many interesting hours in the fall trying to select part of the material that would be suitable for the theme of the 1933 MAROON. After the material was chosen the actual work was started on the annual.

The editors, their assistants, and others who helped with the publications found that there was work to be done at all times during the day. There were pictures of the different groups to schedule which were taken by Allen Porter and his assistant, Wendell Hays. The persons in the pictures had to be identified, trips had to be made to the engravers or printers and there was advertising to sell. Stories for the clubs and groups to be placed under the pictures and for the main division scenes had to be written.

In the Art department, the editor and her assistants prepared the drawings for the main division pages to illustrate each part of the history that had been chosen.

The subscription drive was launched without the assistance of an assembly, which has been formerly used to advertise the MAROON. The drive continued for about two weeks and was carried on by solicitors in the advisory groups. The staff gave free tickets to the movie (Will Rogers in "The Headless Horseman") to those buying their MAROON during the first week of the drive. This was done instead of giving prizes to the 90% advisory groups.

Russell James was the most active of the solicitors, selling 90 MAROONS and breaking the record of the past years. Among the others that sold 30 or more MAROONS to receive free annuals were Beverly Mortensen, James Haines, and Ruth Salladay. Wayne Hawkins and Allen Porter sold 20 books and received down payments on their annual.

The early pioneers of our county were not deprived of the social side of life amid their new surroundings. As soon as their homes were established, they began to form acquaintances with their neighbors.

At this time social activities lasted over a period of two or three days, due to the distance which had to be covered by each family before arriving at their destination.

Their forms of entertainment varied from quilting bees, taffy pulls, husking bees to county fairs where the mistress of the household displayed her art of cookery and preserving. Sleigh rides, with "Old Dobbin" drawing the sleigh over the crackling ice and snow, were always looked forward to by the young people.

The construction of a building for the host was often undertaken by the members of the gathering, and oftentimes the harvesting was completed by the men, while the ladies aided in the canning and preserving of the fruits.

Square dances were always the pride and joy of the entertainer where the people waltzed to the tune of a fiddle. Anything for a frolic!

Although, within the last century, numerous inventions have come into prominence changing the livelihood of many, the same idea of friendship is still brought about within the modern high school.

Class parties, dances, matinee hops, and assemblies bring together the high school student and his colleagues, where his character is formed and where the love of the broad, intelligent and kingly life abounds.

Where we mould many of our most mutual and life-long friendships is within the portals of our own educational institution.

FROM HIGH SCHOOL TO BUSINESS

Many young people are completing high school. They are debating the school question—and some of them are even wondering whether it will be worth their while to continue their education.

ALL education is worth while, but just now education is necessary which will give the student IMMEDIATE EARNING power.

We recommend to graduates that they let their first steps lead into a business school where they can acquire an education that will be of value to them in case they go to college later, or that will prepare them for employment if higher education is denied to them. All arguments point to the business course as the FIRST LOGICAL STEP after high school graduation.
